授業内容 :	Shakespeare is considered one of the greatest English writers. The best way to study his work is not by reading a script for a play, because they were never designed to be read but watched! This class is different. We will look at some of the most famous speeches from plays such as Hamlet, and Romeo & Juliet. We will listen to short recordings of famous actors performing those speeches to help us feel their power. We will also study a few of his best sonnets and learn about his life. Advanced English level required, or upper intermediate if you are already familiar with his works.
